No pay policy stated on roads in test site

Much to its surprise, the board of supervisors was told Monday that it will get no compensation from Uncle Sam for county roads within the area of the Mississippi Test Facility being acquired by the National Space and Aeronautics Administration.

The word came from Melvin Dovith, chief, real estate acquisition branch for the Army Corps of Engineers at Mobile which is handling the land acquisition for the project. He appeared to ask the supervisors what roads should be relocated which will be closed for the test site.

Dovith said reimbursement will be made only on the basis of what new roads must be built to take the place of those abandoned. He noted that Jan. 10 is the deadline for private citizens to vacate completely the 13,500 acres in the test site so that no one will be living there for whom the supervisors must furnish access.

There are no definite plans yet as to where State Rt. 43 will be relocated, he continued, and the board said it would be in a better position to consider other relocation needs when it knows about the future of 43. Dovith explained that one reason the Engineers had delayed in coming before the board on the road matter was that it did not have the answers on Rt. 43.

The presentation by the Engineers and representatives of NASA opened up an avalanche of questions from the supervisors who have been wrestling with dozens of impact questions since the site selection in October, 1961. This also was the first audience with federal men on the project.

Dovith explained he could talk only of roads but noted several federal agencies were available to assist the county with other matters and Capt. William Fortuna, NASA manager for MTF, volunteered his services in getting the board in touch with the proper channels.

Board President R. G. Hubbard, Jr., complained that the board over the years has an investment of around one-quarter of a million dollars in surfaced roads in the area. It also is confronted with heavy road building demands elsewhere in the county. He said in arguing for just compensation in return for loss of the investment.

H. G. Dean, newly installed supervisor from Beat 1, observed he faces quite a road building job just for the people moving from the test site into the Pearlington area. He argued that should qualify as "replacement" roads.

As Dovith reiterated policy was solely replacement of facilities provided within the test site, Hubbard suggested the supervisors take the matter up with U. S. Sen. John D. Stennis, saying he got the impression from Stennis' talk at Loggstown that the government would make compensation for removal of all roads.

"In other words, if you take property from the people you pay them for it, but when you take property from the county, you don't," Dean inquired. Dovith noted that the county's right as far as roads were concerned was solely in easements "and we don't pay for that."

Walter J. Phillips, county school board attorney who sat in on a portion of the discussion, (Cont. on Page 7.)

Local headaches aired at confab with Stennis

Board of Supervisor President R. G. Hubbard Friday told Sen. John Stennis "I'm not worried about competition after my trip to Cape Canaveral—all shared," and the senator questioned the natural advantages Bay-Waveland and Hancock County had.

The occasion was Stennis' visit here to talk with local people about local problems, primarily those arising from the location of NASA's Mississippi Test Facility in Hancock County.

Notwithstanding this optimistic start the local leaders found several problems they hope Stennis can help them solve. Mayor John Scaffie brought up the need for a sewerage system for Bay St. Louis and explained that commission council was almost through preparing the application for federal assistance through CFA. Scaffie pointed out that already one inshore area was sufficiently polluted to stop oystering there and with the continued increase in population the whole beach front might become affected with a consequent closing of this to swimming. "There would go your natural advantages," said Stennis in answering that he would do what he could to help.

Rep. Clarence Ladner noted if federal assistance for schools such as he understood was made available when the Sardin dam was built might be forthcoming.

In this connection he said he thought some special state legislation might be necessary and that Gov. Ross Barnett had assured him it would be brought up at the current special session of the legislature if he knew exactly what was needed. The senator made a note to look into this question immediately.

Where Route 43 would be rerouted was another question that needs early solving so the county can make other plans and Stennis said he already planned to ask NASA to send in the near future someone with authority to meet with the local people and go into this matter.

As the senator said: "I think it (NASA) is going to be a good thing, but what direction it will take one can't tell yet."

Coast chambers renew battle on commuter

The L and N Railroad's position that a commuter stop at the Michoud plant in out of the question economically came in for some disparaging remarks when the Coast Council of Chambers of Commerce met last Wednesday night at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

A WORD WITH THE MAN - "I'd really like a space suit and maybe a B-B gun, but I haven't been a very good boy lately," so seems to be confiding this youngster as he talks with Santa Claus for the jolly old spirit of Christmas arrived at Kern's 5 and 10 Saturday afternoon.

N. Central suffers more roof trouble

Continued problems with the roof at Hancock North Central School were heard by the county board of education meeting Monday.

In addition to the old leaks in the gymnasium, Principal J. D. Fenton reported water leaks in the boys' dressing room and the boys' bathroom. He fears extensive damage to the cafeteria and the boys' dressing room. Repairs are completed under the new winter weather program. Board Attorney Walter J. Phillips assured the board he is working toward a settlement with the contractor and architect.

A resolution was adopted expressing appreciation to Coast Electric Power Assn., St. Regis Paper Co. and Crosby Forestry for their contributions in making possible the lighted field at North Central, completed in time for the opening game this fall.

Church of Annunciation was notified to clean the unused building adjacent to its school system, and use it as a storage area, formerly occupied by the school system, and use it as a storage area, formerly occupied by the school system, and use it as a storage area, formerly occupied by the school system.

Ask Hill-Burton aid for hospital

Hill-Burton Act money, rather than that of the new Public Works Administration, will be the financing sought for the proposed 20-bed addition to Hancock General Hospital.

That was the decision of the board of supervisors Monday following almost a month of investigation of meeting the need for more hospital beds and consultation with prospective architect for the project.

The board took a dim view of what it felt was the ultra-speedy and perchance prospects under the PWA plan, despite an indicated assurance, as presented by Hospital Administrator Thomas O. Logue, that the Mississippi Commission on Hospital Care would stand behind the architect's fee incurred.

Lucien M. Cox, board attorney, suggested the supervisors adopt a motion to the effect that provisions of the Public Works Act were out of its realm of accomplishment, completed plans and specifications being a part of the application. This was done on the motion of L. M. Frierson, seconded by James D. Necaise. Necaise then moved to apply for Hill-Burton funds for the project with Frierson making the second.

Officials sworn in

OK Waveland town jobs

John Longo, Jr., who succeeds John Garza as Ward 1 Alderman, was the only new face in Waveland officialdom after swearing in of elected officials and appointment of others Tuesday night at the regular meeting of the municipality's Mayor and Board of Aldermen.

Longo joins Mayor Garfield Ladner and aldermen Albert Grass, Ward 2, Dominick Sonier, Ward 3, and Tony Bourgeois, Ward 4, all reelected in Tuesday's snapshotted general election along with Town Marshal and Tax Collector Fred Bourgeois and Treasurer Willie Bourgeois. The vote was Ladner 87, Longo 6, Grass 29, Sonier 32, Tony Bourgeois 19, Fred Bourgeois 87, and Willie Bourgeois 86.

Approval of Mayor Ladner's appointments and setting their remuneration was the major business taken up by the incoming board. Appointments approved identical with last year, and the position's monthly pay were: mayor pro tem, Dominick Sonier, none; alternate mayor pro tem, Albert Grass, none; secretary, C. O. Dufour, $280; attorney, Dan M. Russell, Jr., $75; street commissioner, Tony Bourgeois, $15; registrar of voters, C. O. Dufour, $10; auditor, Moore and Powell of Biloxi, unset.

Also, election commissioners, Charleston Ladner, Paul Henley and Alvin Ganin, none; manager gas and water system, Garfield Ladner, $200; chief clerk, gas and water system, Miss Thelma Lafontaine, $200; bond clerk, C. O. Dufour, $50; and janitors, Mrs. Mary Moran and Mrs. Ruth Goelzenleuchter, $20 and $30.

In addition the board set the salary per month of elected officials as follows: mayor, $200, aldermen, $50, treasurer, $50, and marshal and tax collector, $300 with authority to employ a clerk at $100 per month.

Before recessing until Wednesday, Dec. 12, the board also approved four building permits totaling $22,000 as follows: H. B. Boersch, dwelling, Waveland Terrace; Joseph E. Vignerie, Jr., addition; Joseph Griffin, dwelling, Jeff Davis subdivision; and D. M. Leroy, dwelling, Molere Drive.

In winding up unfinished business before relinquishing office the outgoing board accepted the official election returns, the state's public utility assessment of $178,098 up $3,706 from last year, approved minutes of the preceding meeting and authorized payment of the November bills presented.

An orderly minded narcotics thief or two carefully relieved Waveland Drug Store of two bottles of pills and an assortment of tablets in other containers sometime Thursday night, passing up a host of other merchandise en route to the drug cabinet in the rear of the store. Chief Deputy Sheriff Gerald V. Price, Jr., said about $100 in cash was missing from a box in the rear of the store while the cash register was unattended.

Things seem a bit quiet after the excitement of Thanksgiving holidays has come and gone—now students are counting the days until they'll be released for the Yule-tide season. Seniors are excited over the prospect of receiving their rings. St. Stanislaus boys are already proudly displaying theirs—they were distributed last Friday. St. Joseph girls are hoping to be wearing theirs before Christmas and the entire 12th grade class at Bay excited over the prospect of receiving their rings. Get well wishes go to Caroline Demaris who returned home Saturday after having surgery at Hancock General last Monday. She's feeling much better minus her appendix, but her activities will be somewhat curtailed temporarily—she can't hold for three weeks, drive her car for a month and won't be allowed to blow her trumpet for six weeks.

Jay Lagasse, always an entertaining young man, is selling attractive boxed cards to earn a little extra spending money for Christmas. His sister Gaynel, spent the weekend at home. Gaynel was an attendant in the recent marriage of her cousin George Rose to Rose Marchese.

Jimmy, Ther and Tom Mayfield spent Thanksgiving in New Albany as guests of their paternal grandparents.

Rebel Riders were resplendent in their red and black silver spangled costumes as they escorted Santa on his annual parade Saturday.

Get well wishes are also in line for Betty Smith who has been hospitalized with asthma and pneumonia and to Jo Ann Smith who has bronchitis and pleurisy.

Jeanne Lagasse had David Omeier as her escort Saturday night. They took in a movie.

Gayle Hubble of New Orleans was the weekend guest of Judith Boudreau.

Jimmy Mayfield is holding down a job as surveyor's helper at present—he plans to re-enter Southern next spring.

Aid for retarded Negro kids studied

Possibility of providing some assistance to Negro children who are retarded was considered by the Hancock Assn. for Retarded Children when it met last Thursday night at the Children's Center. Warren Carver, president, appointed Russell Elliott to work with him in contacting Negro churches and organizations in an effort to develop some program for this group.

A letter was read by Mrs. G. S. Kennedy, secretary, from Dr. Ray Murgrove, chairman of the department of psychology at the University of Southern Mississippi, enumerating scholarships open to those interested in being trained to work with retarded children. The local group is seeking a trained teacher by September to start a special class at Hancock North Central School.

Plans for Christmas parties for the retarded children were announced by Mrs. Lloyd Lewis. One will be from 3 to 5 p.m., Dec. 16 at the American Legion Hall for all retarded children of the area, another will be for those attending the center on Dec. 21. The committee in charge consists of Mrs. U. N. Durbin, chairman, and Mesdames William Wilson, Herman Holden, Yvonne Virgilio, George M. Marsh, Carol Choppin and Joseph Chiniche.

Mrs. Irma Baker, director of the center, reported a rhythm band is being formed, the children making their own instruments and continuing work on Christmas gifts for their parents. She invited visits to the center and announced it would be open the entire week of Dec.

14 plan farms in conservation

Fourteen Hancock County farmers have planned their farms for conservation during the last few weeks. Soil Conservation Service technicians Hugh Sanford reports.

They are P. S. Turner, Oliver J. Cuevas, Warren Whitfield, Mrs. Ethel Lee, Leroy Cuevas, Mrs. W. P. Lee, C. T. Favre, Mrs. Carl Heltzman, Scott Eustis, L. L. Fletcher, John C. Fricke, Mrs. Charles Bannister and Mrs. Roy Weems.

Sanford noted conservation farm planning is an important tool for the farmer or rancher. Steps must be taken to remedy or prevent soil erosion, however slight, and recent years have provided some concern for the general public as well as farmers on the conservation of natural resources, he continued.

Woodland needs conservation planning just as row crop land and pasture land, he declared.

It may be true that "The Brave Don't Cry", but if so it merely proves we're not brave. The not-always silent tears really flowed Monday when we discovered that developing fluid in the tank was only one-fourth the needed depth when pictures taken last week were developed. Result: a nice clear one-fourth of most pictures turned out with the remaining three-fourths blank.

Our picture scoop of Senator John Stennis' visit to Bay St. Louis and the acoustical horn at the test site, the record of Mrs. Richard Stennis' newly organized Brownie troop's tour of the Echo plant, of Commission Council's year and a half late evening in by Chancery Clerk Claiborne Ladner, and of Jake Breland's dinner in honor of Bay High's football team as well as pictures taken for the Student Prints all were missed.

Reminds us of three years ago when we missed a particularly good scene after a cloudburst notwithstanding having four photographers and seven cameras on the spot—the photographer taking the pictures forgot to put any film in his camera.

No joke

Louisiana's Senator Allen J. Ellender has been barred from Uganda during his tour of African countries and is likely to find himself on the unwanted list of others for his statements in Southern Rhodesia. Among other things he is reported to have said at a news conference that "I have yet to see any part of Africa where Africans are ready for self-government. The average African is incapable of leadership without white assistance."

That the history of recent years in the newly independent African countries confirms the basic accuracy of Ellender's comment is not the point. At best it was a rude and tactless statement, even though probably popular in Louisiana, by a man high in our national legislative councils.

At worst, it may force our government to take an otherwise unwise step in order to placate the pride of these countries who gained independence prematurely in the flurry of nationalism after World War II.

Another problem

Casual discussion at Waveland Town Council's meeting Tuesday brought to light the possibility that the municipality may soon want to annex some or all of the territory between its present boundary and U. S. 90.

This is just another question which necessarily faces both Waveland and Bay St. Louis at all times and is now brought to the fore by the prospective changes due to the Mississippi Test Facility. There is always a tendency for the area immediately surrounding a city to grow haphazardly and frequently undesirably, thus hurting the more controlled municipal area. In times of abnormal growth such as is expected for Hancock County this tendency is magnified with more odorous results.

The court permitting there is only one drawback to enlarging our two municipalities, the cost of providing municipal services to the annexed areas has largely to be paid out before tax returns from the newly incorporated area catch up.

For the umpteenth time we repeat that the county and the municipalities are going to have to spend lots of money if we are to take advantage of the growth potential of the area and that means more revenue from some source. You guess the major source.

The last, we hope

Again today we are printing more comments on the Oxford incident. Our own opinion having been expressed, possibly too violently, it is obvious we don't concur with all the views we have printed, but we hope that in giving our readers other similar and contrary views they can better form their own conclusions.

Needless to say we do not accept all the premises set out such as that the decision of the supreme court is the law of the land. At most it is the law of the immediate case subject to modification or reversal at any time. And it goes almost without saying that we think Attorney General Robert Kennedy leaves out facts not consistent with his explanation, modifies others and makes up some.

In any event, "you pay your money and you take your choice" and we hope this is the last on this distasteful episode in our history.

Army's four losses dimmed by its 34 to 14 drubbing by Navy Saturday gives credence to a long held belief of ours. It takes players as well as a coach to win a football game.

Global scene, Cuba viewed by Stennis

The Cuban crisis and the reciprocal trade bill may be 1962's major contribution to peace, heralded Sen. John Stennis last Friday.

This forecast was made to a small group of local leaders while the senator spent the morning here before heading about local problems from local people. After lunch here, followed by a quick trip to see some of the developments at NASA's Mississippi Test Facility, Stennis proceeded to Piquette for similar discussions with persons in that community.

The senator suggested that the trade bill together with the European Common Market, while it might be accompanied by "some pinching" here, would enable the Western European countries to form an economic block even larger than this country. The resulting solidification of their economic interest should remove the cause of many of the wars between these countries and increase their standard of living, he said, and this alone would be a "big move to stop the spread of communism or a semi-communism, i. e., socialism".

Their political solidification might even follow their economic solidification as so often happens, he continued.

As to the Cuban crisis, the Mississippi legislator said the two most powerful countries stood "toe to toe and Russia (Khrushchev) yielded" and if this is "aggressively followed up we can move another step up the ladder".

If we get it

Mississippi is right

Manchester, New Hampshire, Union Leader

The writer of this editorial has negro friends. He and this paper believe that the negroes should have just as good schools, hospitals and other facilities as white people. This newspaper deplores racial prejudice. Nevertheless this newspaper considers that Gov. Ross Barnett and the State of Mississippi are completely correct and completely right in the position they have taken, because what is at stake here is the right of the majority, be they white or black, to determine with whom they want to associate.

If a group of negroes, be they in a school, a university or social club, do not want a white person to enter that school, college or club, the white person has no business attempting to force himself upon the negroes.

In reverse, no negro has the right to force himself on any group of whitepeople, any school, college or club, who do not want him. To decide otherwise is to destroy freedom in the United States.

You cannot teach tolerance or remove prejudice at the end of a bayonet. Some Democratic and some Republican Northern politicians may think that they are playing clever politics in favor of the negro vote by trying to force a negro student into the previously all-white University of Mississippi, but they are not improving race relations or race friendships by such an act.

Rather, they are creating hatred and resentment. It is doubtful whether the Northern hypocrites, who will not associate with the negro in the North, especially the wealthier whites who send their children to carefully segregated private schools in the North, have any concept of the damage to racial relationships they are doing by their holier-than-thou attitude towards the South.

In addition, this constant pandering to the negro vote and this everlasting emphasis on the rights of the negro with no mention of his obligations and his duties, are creating an attitude on the part of the negro not conducive to his own best development and progress.

Unfortunately, many negroes today, encouraged by the Northern politicians, disregard their personal obligations to self and race improvement. One has only to look at the crime records of our national capital, of Philadelphia, Chicago, New York or any other large metropolitan area, to discover that crime rates among the negroes are many times that of the crime rate among the whites in the same locations.

This writer's good friend, George Schuyler, New York editor of the Pittsburgh Courier, largest negro weekly newspaper in the United States, whose articles so frequently appear in this newspaper, has often said that the road to salvation for the negro in this country lies in personal self-improvement and in economic power gained by becoming efficient and prosperous small, middle-sized and large businessmen and by their rise in the professions, from which they should not be hindered by prejudice.

Unfortunately, the politicians—and this applies especially to the Kennedy's—in their fawning over the negro vote have done terrible damage to the cause of better race relations.

Among other things they have done is to confuse completely the issue by making forced association between the races a necessary part of racial equality. Separation and equality have nothing to do with each other. It is perfectly possible to believe, and it is supposed to be a fact, that yellow, brown, black and white men and women can be of completely equal ability and worth, yet for it to be undesirable for them to intermingle, intermix, intermarry or associate together on any intimate basis.

Friendship and mutual self-respect do not require racial mixing. Certain differences of race, religion and creed are not only not bad but are actually desirable and make for a brilliant diversity in our national and world society. Sociologists have found that marriages are happiest and best when wars between these countries and increase their standard of living, he said, and this alone would be a "big move to stop the spread of communism or a semi-communism, i. e., socialism".

Their political solidification might even follow their economic solidification as so often happens, he continued.

As to the Cuban crisis, the Mississippi legislator said the two most powerful countries stood "toe to toe and Russia (Khrushchev) yielded" and if this is "aggressively followed up we can move another step up the ladder".

In advocating the continuance of a harder diplomatic line for this country, he commented "we to us if we don't" and expressed the belief that "Congress, spurred by the people, had a lot to do" with its beginning.

Pointing out that two weeks before President John Kennedy placed the embargo on imports of offensive weapons to Cuba he had recommended similar action, Stennis reported that he had received no criticism for the suggestion "except a few letters from large cities" not in Mississippi.

Continuing on the Cuban show-down, he suggested that the reason the United States was successful was because "for the first time we were really ready"

Attorney General Writes Views on Rights

By ROBERT F. KENNEDY
Attorney General of the United States

BECAUSE of the considerable national and world interest focused on Mississippi recently, I have been asked to write this guest column about my views on civil rights. I am pleased to have the opportunity.

The President was obliged to act as he did in Oxford, Mississippi to protect the orders of the Federal courts. When United States marshals went to Mississippi, it was not to enforce the law for the benefit of a single Negro student, but to enforce the law on behalf of every American citizen. It was to make clear that America is a country which lives by the law.

THE IMPRESSION appears to have been created among some people that the litigation involving the University of Mississippi was started by the Federal Government, or at least was treated by the Federal Government, on a hasty and ill-considered basis. This impression is not founded on fact.

The Federal Government did not become involved in the Meredith case until it reached the Supreme Court. At that point, at the request of the Court, the Department of Justice commented on some technical questions dealing with the power of individual members of the Court.

BUT THE GOVERNMENT was not involved with the enforcement of the Court order until after Justice

Black, with the concurrence of all other members of the Supreme Court, had ruled that Meredith's admission to the University could no longer be delayed. It also was after the Governor of Mississippi had publicly stated that the official policy of the State of Mississippi was to defy the law of the land.

Not many people realize it, but there were no new legal issues which had to be decided by the Supreme Court in the Meredith case. Even the question of the validity of the school segregation cases of 1954 was, not at issue.

The only defense ever offered—and the only basis advanced for delay of the Court's order—was that the University of Mississippi was never segregated in the first place, but would admit Negro applicants on the same basis as any other applicants.

I THINK EVENTS since September 18th, the date of the Interposition Proclamation issued by the Governor, have shown beyond any conceivable dispute what little basis there was for that defense.

So the Court's orders followed eighteen months of litigation in which there was never any real issue. In the course of it, the University and the state had their day in court many times at all three levels of the Federal court system.

Once the Supreme Court had ruled, the duty of every American citizen to see that the Court's orders were followed became unquestioned. The Department of Justice entered the case only because Mississippi officials indicated they would interfere with the Court's orders. The United States has the responsibility to see that the orders of the Federal courts are obeyed and that the integrity of the courts is upheld.

RESPECT for the law and obedience to the law are the basis of our free society. Wherever the law is perverted or destroyed, tyranny takes over and society is demoralized.

In any legal case there are two points of view. Decisions, therefore, are not acceptable to both sides. But our whole system of law would be undermined if decisions unacceptable to one side should not, in fact, be accepted.

IF DECISIONS of the highest court are disobeyed because they are unacceptable to one side, no right, no contract, no insurance policy, no pension, no will would be safe. Organized society would become impossible and the people would have to rely on private force to settle their disputes.

Furthermore, if one man's legal rights are denied, the rights of all Americans are in danger.

That is what is at issue in the Meredith case. It does not mean that criticism is forbidden or disagreement barred. For these are the lifeblood of our free society. Laws must constantly be revised and court decisions reviewed. But, in the meantime, judicial decisions constitute the law of the land.

I am convinced that—despite the refusal of some officials to obey the law, to accept their own responsibility—with the Court's orders. The United States has the responsibility to see that the orders of the Federal courts are obeyed and that the integrity of the courts is upheld.

AND I THINK that throughout our history, wherever the law is perverted or destroyed, tyranny takes over and society is demoralized.

We are not a nation of laws. We are a nation of men. It has not always been so. But it is the fact that many of our men have moved to and from the law.

THE DEPARTMENT has not brought a case without the approval of the Attorney General. We have a tradition of what appears to be a tradition of the law.

There are no laws but there are laws. Laws are made by the people and they are made by the people. Laws are made by the people and they are made by the people.

Pearlingtonian arrested in raid on still

David Shackelford, 26, of Pearlington, was arrested last Thursday as the result of a raid at an illicit distillery about half a mile from U. S. 90, agents of the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division at Gulfport report.

Destroyed in the raid were a 220-gallon capacity pot still with a weekly production potential of 264 gallons of spirits which agents said represented a potential federal tax fraud of over $2,640 for each week of production. They indicated additional arrests were anticipated.

Also destroyed were 19 55-gallon capacity drum fermenters, 950 gallons of whiskey mash and 30 gallons of non-tax paid whiskey.

After arraignment before U. S. Commissioner Irene Humphreys at Hixson, Shackelford was held for the next federal grand jury on charges of violating internal revenue laws.

remarked that the Engineers could not get an intelligent answer until plans for Rt. 43 are determined. While Beat 1 will require many new roads as a result of the test site, re-routing of facilities for Beat 2 and 4 will be contingent on 43, he asserted.

To the west of the test site, replacement of blacktop roads will not be necessary, Dovich pointed out, while on the east, many of the roads connect with areas outside and may need replacement. He emphasized the buffer zone is not involved in the matter since the government is not taking over that land.

Hubbard voiced concern about the tax situation in the county with the loss of nearly 40 percent of its territory for the NASA installation (covering both fee and buffer zones). "It looks like our only means of help is to go up on the valuation," he declared.

Joe Graham, chief of the acquisition section for the Engineers' real estate office here, noted that 1962 real estate taxes due in the fee zone were deducted from purchase prices in acquiring that property but the land will be off the tax rolls for 1963 taxes.

Dean said he had been advised he could remove culverts from the roads within the fee zone which the government is taking over and mentioned the possibility of taking out a bridge on the Gainesville road which Beat 4 Supervisor James Nease said he would buy. "What would you do then," Dean asked representatives of the Engineers. "We'd have to build our own bridge," answered Graham, "you'd just close the road for us."

Dovich and Capt. Fortune asked the board to abandon at an early date the two roads going into Gainesville along with one east-west route from there to the Texas Flat Road but this was deferred for study.

Both Hubbard and Board Attorney Lucien M. Gex questioned the delegation closely about practices followed in Huntsville, Ala., site of the Marshall space flight center (which they were old had been a project for so long they couldn't remember) and Cape Canaveral, Fla., (where the group said was a different situation existed.) Dovich cited other economic gains accruing to Cape Canaveral which Hubbard acknowledged but noted it TIGERS OVERPOWER OCEAN SPRINGS - Bay High's Benigno, No. 11, plucks one out of the basket as Leroy No. 12, is ready to help as the Tigers met and beat Ocean Springs before a sparse crowd here Tuesday night. This was the fourth basketball game in progress in the county on the evening.

Tigers in 3rd win

Bay High's undefeated Tigers won their third straight victory Tuesday night, trouncing Ocean Springs 58-37 in a one-up for two important games in the next five days. The Tiger JV also won over the Ocean Springs JV 37-35.

The Tigers looked lifeless for periods, but poured on the points in the second half. Coach Seymour's charges are playing for Friday's rematch with Pass High, and then to Bay High by only one point. Next Tuesday night the Bengals face their cross-town rivals, St. Stanislaus, in the final game.

to the hospital complaints of Foster Fowler, its executive director. Hubbard noted that a majority of the board would like to make the trip for the commission to feel the application of the board of supervisors.

Logue insisted that his hands were tied until an architect is chosen for the project but the board tabled a decision on that until it reconvenes at 9 a.m. Tuesday after the Jackson trip. Projects will be interviewed after that time.

Before H. G. Dean was sworn in as new supervisor from Beat 1, Charles A. Ruess, Jr., assistant appointee, checked the number road and bridge fund for that district, disallowing $44,963 on the latter. Final acceptance was made of the land and personal property for 1962, $9,003,758 on the property, $548,963 on the latter. The recommendation of the board was removed from five prisoners of the good behavior, Amos Ernest Mitchell, Lloyd Earl Verdon and Ralph removal of the docket for the election was voted. All funds in sufficient balance for this election, but the County-wide election and Bridge Fund needed funds just coming in, and the funds was left with a balance of only $1,427.33 after the election. The election was approved, and the board has already borrowed $1,000 of the approximately $1,000 it can borrow against the election revenues.

At first it was thought only the two small bottles with one-quarter grain tablets of morphine and 1/16 grain pills of codeine were taken. All the bottles had been removed from the four shelves in the cabinet and stacked neatly on the floor.

A subsequent check of the inventory sheet against the remaining supply made Proprietor Harry Lynch and his staff showed the thief also got away with 100 2 1/2 milligram tablets of Jolapine, 129 of 5 milligram, 70 of 7 1/2 and 100 of 10 milligram; 64 morphine quarter grains, 69 diazepam 1/20 strength and 100 of 1/16 strength.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY

A gray cloud of robins obscuring the sun as they migrate to fatter feeding grounds—rotting boat hulls, rusty lengths of twisted pipe, empty beer cans and other flotsam and jetsam marring an otherwise lovely sea-scape when the low and the somehow incongruous music of a Christmas carol wafted on the year-balm breeze.

SANTA ARRIVED AT BAY BRIDGE SATURDAY TO LEAD PARADE THROUGH DOWNTOWN

MISS MAJORETTE—Beth Kergosien, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Kergosien of Clearwater, Fla., this week was declared juvenile Miss Majorette of Florida, beating three dozen opponents in the state championship for the National Baton Twirling Assn. to win a trip to the national contest in Wisconsin next June. Beth is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Kergosien of Carroll Avenue.

Welcome meeting slated Wednesday for newcomers

A Welcome to Hancock County meeting will be staged for waves of newcomer families at 10 a.m. Wednesday at Bay-Waveland Yacht Club under auspices of the newcomer information service committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Wayne Ducomb, chairman, said cards notifying newcomers of the gathering are being sent to the 55 families listed on the chamber rolls. However, indication are that this list is far from complete and she is asking persons not yet notified to register at the chamber, HO7-4252, for an invitation.

Hospital auxiliary gets slate

Mrs. Marion Steffee Olestad, chairman, and Mrs. Sam Whitfield and Mrs. Winfield Partridge, members of the nominating committee for Hancock General Hospital auxiliary, submitted a proposed slate of officers for the coming year when the group met Monday.

Nominated were Mrs. Ben Hille for president; Mrs. A. J. Ramage, first vice president; Mrs. Olestad, second vice president; Mrs. Lucille P. Weeks, secretary; Mrs. Joseph Kern, Jr., treasurer and Mrs. Hugo Batterlee, publicity chairman.

Election will take place in January.

Johnny Favre lone Bay boxer to beat Biloxi

The Bay St. Louis boxing team dropped seven of eight bouts to Biloxi Recreation Center in Biloxi Monday night.

Johnny Favre was the only local fighter to post a victory, winning in a 110-pound bout over Steve Broussard to keep the Biloxi group from posting a shut-out.

Bay St. Louis' T. J. Fayard dropped a close split decision to Biloxi's Joe Guice in the night's feature attraction. Both boys weighed in at 145 pounds.

Other members of the local team, under the instruction of Buck Price, who saw action included: Donald Marquar, Jack Townsend, Roddy Henley, and Donnie Bilbo, all losers on decisions, and Ernie Nemo, who was defeated on a first-round technical knockout.

Jones girls win Biloxi tourney

Valena C. Jones girls' basketball team won the Biloxi invitational tournament last weekend with a 32-13 victory over Randolph High of Pass Christian. The Jones sextet beat Ocean Springs 30-25 in the semi-finals.

Outstanding players were Lorraine Frederick, Rodean Silas, Elaine Bradley, Barbara Dorsey, Linda Young, Marilyn Price, Annie Haynes and Carol Robinson.

The boys lost to Biloxi in the semi-finals 44-36 after beating Randolph High 76-61 in the opener. Top performances were turned in by Robert Vogtare, Joe Tate, Clevon Williams, Sullivan Bell, James Fields, Harold Price and Tyrone Curry.

STANISLAUS VS. PICAYUNE - Rockchaw Moss Scaffid, No. 44, left, and Waymon Carr, No. 45, in action as Stanislaus cagers open season Tuesday night.

Overtime finale Picayune nips SSC in opener

St. Stanislaus cagers dropped a heart-breaking 49-48 overtime decision to highly favored Picayune High in their season opener here Tuesday night. The junior varsity was beaten by six points in its game.

Nodie Ladner, high scorer for the evening with 14 points, fouled out in the overtime period after adding 17 points. Curtis Matherne added two for his total of 11 and Waymon Carr got one foul shot to tally five points for the evening's work but it wasn't quite enough to offset Picayune. A technical foul was called on the visiting team's coach, Larry Ladner, when he ran onto the court during the overtime excitement.

The Rocks and Picayune were tied at 10-all after the first period but Picayune went ahead 27 to 22 in the second, increased their margin to 35-31 as the overtime excitement.

Other games on the card for the first night will be Jones boys vs. Biloxi at 7 p.m.; Jones girls vs. St. Rose de Lima at 8 p.m. and Randolph High boys vs. St. Rose at 9 p.m.

Play Saturday will commence at 10 a.m.

Teams have entered from Columbia, LaCombe, La., Poplarville, Picayune, St. Rose, Pass Christian, North Gulfport, Biloxi and Pascagoula in addition to the host VCJ squads. Admission will be 35 cents for students and 50 cents for adults. Refreshments will be served.

Gold Jays in win at Poplarville

St. Joseph Academy captured their first basketball triumph of the season Thursday night in the Poplarville Tournament, only to be eliminated the following night.

Mrs. Joseph Colson's Gold Jays rolled to a 51-27 victory over Lumberton in a first round game, looking much improved since the season's first two games, lost by a large margin.

Jo Mary Artigues led SJA in scoring, while Susie Rhodes followed close behind. Mitzi Blache and Ellen Colson did an outstanding job on defense, and were primarily responsible for Lumberton's low scoring total.

A good Pearl River Central sextet knocked the locals out of the tourney Friday night, winning a 50-42 verdict despite a sensational performance by Jo Mary Artigues, Jo Mary scored 36 of her team's 42 points to easily lead both teams. Mitzi Blache and Ellen Colson again played well on defense.

Last Friday's scheduled game with Harrison Central was not played.

County cage outlook bright

Hancock County's boys' basketball picture is certainly getting brighter since the school's season has perhaps its best quintet since the days of the 1950s who brought this county a state championship.

High appears, on the basis of early games, to have their cage squad in several years. Scrimmages, playing their first Tuesday night, should field a respectable quint after losing two years.

The season outlook for high school girls' teams isn't quite as bright, although the county sextets will improve with experience. Hancock lost all six starters of last season's fine team, and North Central are having trouble getting started.

The North Central boys, under the coaching of Billy Sills, won the VanCleave Tournament last week for the third consecutive year and went into Tuesday's all-important clash at North Central against arch-rival Harrison Central with an unblemished record.

Guard O. J. Peterson was lost through graduation, and forwards Berlin Ladner and Eugene Ladner, senior center David Hoda, and a few new boys have the Hawks off and running.

High, with a fast-moving offense and pressing defense, was impressively in downing St. Martin 73-51 last week. Yellow Jacks then swept to a first-place trophy later in the VanCleave Tournament. Last Friday, however, the Tigers countered nearly all the way at Pass Christian and won a brilliant last-half performance by senior forward Richard Schaefer.

Bay High Coach Wilmer Seymour has five good boys, but a lack of reserve strength may handicap the Tigers if starters continue to get quickly into foul trouble as in the first two games. The thing for sure: Bay High and North Central both play as well as a brand of basketball as can be found. Both like to run, and both are capable of scoring big.

Harry's all SEC nominees
With the regular football campaign for collegiate squads in the Southeastern Conference All-Star team to be announced, the time has arrived for our second annual Harry's all SEC nominees.

The quarterback position was the toughest to fill, but we're going with Ole Miss's Glynn Griffing. The nod over Georgia Tech's Larry Ralston and Alabama's Joe Namath because Griffing was the only one to lead his team to a perfect season. Griffing was a big man, a leader, and a perfect passer. He was a big man, a leader, and a perfect passer.

Pa. Jerry Stovall is a certain choice at one halfback slot, and Ole Miss's Chuck Morris and Alabama's Cotton Clark round out the starting backfield. Although all three running backs opened at halfback, 1962 was a lean year in the SEC as far as fullbacks were concerned, and one of the three could easily adjust to the position.

Johnny Baker of Mississippi State and Billy Martin of Georgia Tech are our starting ends. Although Kentucky's Tom Hutchinson is the first-team choice of nearly all other selectors, we feel Baker and Martin did more for their teams this year.

Ole Miss's Jim Dunaway and LSU's Fred Miller landed berths at tackle. Florida's Larry Travis and Georgia Tech's Rufus Guthrie at guards, and Alabama's Lee Roy Jordan at center. We'd like to see the Big Ten come up with a team that can win these boys!

Setting on the Maroons
The collegiate cage season opened last week, and Mississippi State is the odds-on favorite to cop Southeastern Conference title.

The Maroons lost only one starter, Jack Berkshire, and have an entire army of returning veterans. Coach Babe McCarthy turned out one good team after another at State in recent years, and they have his best quintet at the present.

Miami Mitchell, former Kiln great, is one of the big men in the Mississippi State title picture. Mitchell, along with guard W. (Red) Stroud, is being pointed for possible All-America honors. Kentucky was rated a co-favorite with the Mississippians to crown before the season got underway, but the Wildcats were shocked 80-77 by lowly Virginia Tech at Lexington in their season opener. Despite the presence of Charles (Cotton) Nash, a player who might be basketball's next Jerry Lucas, Kentucky doesn't seem to be as strong as last season. Don't count the Wildcats out, though.

Tigers nip Pass

Senior forward Richard Schaefer's "impossible" jump shot with eight seconds left gave Bay High a thrilling 55-53 victory over Pass Christian Friday night in Pass Christian, and capped the Tigers' season record to 2-0. The Tigerettes also were involved in a squeaker, but came out on the short end of a 37-35 decision.

Bay High broke away to a 10-0 lead almost before Pass High could get a shot away. Then the Bengals suddenly could do nothing right and were held to only four points during one 13-minute stretch in the opening half. The Tigers led 16-13 after one quarter, trailed 23-20 at half-time, and regained the lead 39-38 entering the final stanza.

Pass High went on top by three points with slightly over a minute remaining and controlled the ball. The Tigers stole a bad pass, however, and Schaefer hit a jump shot. Seconds later, another Pass miscue again gave Bay High possession and the ever-present Schaefer hit a lay-up, was fouled, and added the free throw. The Pirates quickly tied the score with 15 seconds left, but Schaefer's final jump shot gave Bay High victory.

Schaefer led all scorers with 25 points, 21 of which came in the second half. Guard Charles Bennett, with 13, was the only other player in twin-figures.

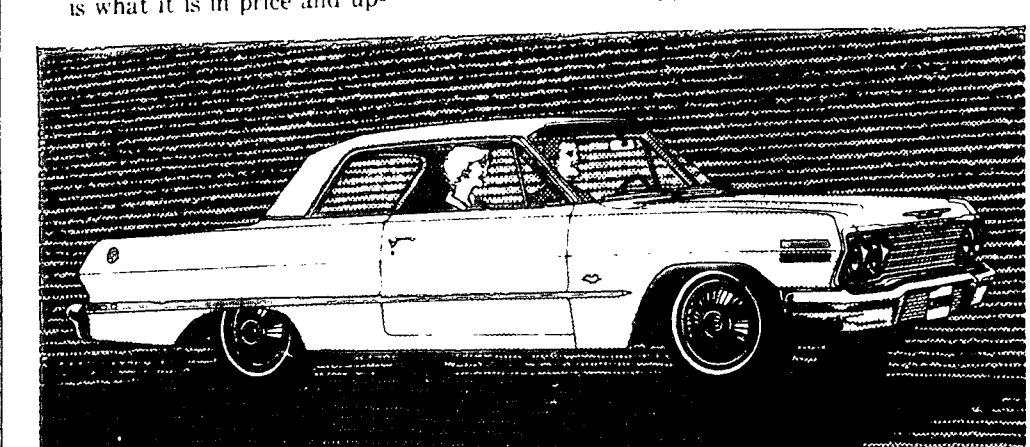

The Tigerettes dropped their second straight decision in the first game, but not before putting up a real struggle. Pass High's scrappy sextet trailed 12-10, led 18-16, and trailed 28-27 at quarter breaks before winning in the final minute. With only five seconds left, the Tigerettes had a chance to tie the score but couldn't hit the net.

Susie Doering led Bay High in scoring, and Patsy Carver was runner-up. Rhonda Osborn, Maria Peterson, and Carolyn Holden were the top guards for the locals.

Rebels beat Hawks before huge crowd

Some 1,500 wildly cheering fans jammed into every nook and cranny of Hancock North Central's gym Tuesday night to witness the Hawks' varsity lose to arch-rival Harrison Central 67-61 while the Hawkettes sent their friends home happy with a 29-27 win.

The game was billed as the basketball game of the year in Hancock County and it may well have been, with the fans vocal but orderly and only 12 fouls called on the two boys' teams.

Hawkette stars Brenda Stockstill and Valerie Malley each tallied 10 points to lead their team while G. Evans was high for the visitors with 19. It was a tight contest all the way and continued under protest by Harrison Central with 34 seconds left when the score was tied at 27-27. A technical foul was called on the Rebels at that stage for taking six time outs and Coach Roland Lachner complained he had not been notified of the fifth.

Hawks capture P'ville

Hancock North Central's varsity cagers won the Poplarville invitational tournament for the third straight year last weekend, besting the host squad 24-18 in a deep freeze contest finale.

The championship trophy was presented to the student body at assembly exercises Tuesday by team captain Eugene Lachner, Superintendent J. D. Penton making the acceptance.

The Hawkettes won their first game of the season in opening play Friday night, topping Brooklyn girls 35-21 but lost in the semi-finals to Poplarville, who went on to beat Pearl River Central for the title.

Lionel Hoda scored 16 points in the first round when the Hawks trounced Lumberton 88-20 while Don Davis and Leland Ray each got six for Lumberton's best effort. Pearl River Central was North Central's semi-final victim, falling 42-22 with Eugene Lachner leading the way with 15 points. R. Enterken was high for the losers.

In Saturday night's final round, Poplarville was ahead 7-6 at the end of the first quarter but the Hawks didn't allow them a point in the second and led 12-7 as the half-time whistle sounded. It was literally nip and tuck in the third, the Hawks leading 18-15.

Eugene Lachner got seven points to lead Hawk scoring while Shelton Harrell paced Poplarville with eight.

In the girls' division, Brenda Stockstill and Valerie Malley each scored 12 points for top honors against Brooklyn while Patty Bond led the losers with 13. Valerie was high against Poplarville with 10 while H. Daughdrill led the winners with 21.

FETE TIGER CRIDERS
Jake Breland was host at a dinner last Wednesday night at Ray's Restaurant honoring the Bay High School football team.

It was the first regular season win for Billy Sills' girls.

In the boys' game, one of Harrison Central's talented Farmer twins, Gr. Ie, put on a dazzling display, of scoring accuracy in the third quarter to put his team out in front after the Hawks led 28-25 at the half. Gayle amassed 24 points during the evening, hitting the basket from all over the court.

The Rebels ran their lead up to five points at one stage but late in the fourth quarter the Hawks evened things at 61-61.

Logtown tourney underway

Eighteen teams are participating this week in the annual Logtown Invitational Grammar School Basketball Tournament.

The four-day event started last night and will continue with finals set for Saturday at 7:30 and 8:30 p.m.

On tap for tonight are games pitting: Pearl River Central and North Central girls, Poplarville and North Bay girls, Poplarville and North Central boys, and North Bay and Pearl River Central boys.

Friday night, Gulfview and Harrison Central girls will collide along with Picayune and St. Stanislaus boys, Gulfview boys and the winner of Wednesday's Logtown-Delisle game, and Harrison Central boys and the winner of the North Bay-Pearl River Central contest.

Semifinals will begin at 12 noon Saturday with four games scheduled. Saturday afternoon winners will then meet in the finals that night.

Trophies will be awarded following the completion of the tournament.

and began an all court press but then North Central was caught for several costly fouls. Harrison Central put things on ice at the free throw line in the final minutes.

Lionel Hoda led the Hawks with 23 points and Berlin Lachner turned in a good floor game with some driving lay-ups to tie the score near the end. Eugene Lachner hit for 16.

The Gulfport tourney this weekend is the Hawks' next stop.
